

Uncomfortable scratch-uations

Pet insurance is there when chronic allergies require ongoing care.

A scratch and a scratch

Warning:
Spatula snatcher

Chronic allergies upended Duke's service dog training and set him on the path to family dog life. Luckily, he already had Nationwide pet insurance to offset his prescription care costs and help in more unusual situations—like the time he ate a whole spatula.

"It's very, very easy to use Nationwide insurance and submit a claim."

— Nationwide® member Jennifer W., pet parent of Duke

How pet insurance works

For many pets, allergies are a lifelong issue. Here's how a Nationwide pet insurance plan could help:¹

1. Your vet (or any licensed veterinarian) diagnoses and treats your dog's allergies
2. You pay the invoice of $281²
3. You submit a photo of your paid invoice
4. Nationwide reimburses your eligible expenses
5. Rinse and repeat: Allergies are a chronic condition that can cost $891 per year.³

Breathe easy

Regular grooming can help reduce allergens and spot health issues early.

- ✓ Feel for rashes, hot spots, sores, lumps and bumps
- ✓ Examine coat for excessive shedding, bald patches or mats
- ✓ Check for odor, discharge or redness inside the ear
- ✓ Look for cracked toenails or foreign objects between paw pads

Nationwide offers reimbursement for eligible veterinary expenses plus discounts on pet prescriptions and more.
